IRI Conference on Culture, Society, Responsibility

Budapest, Hungary, 03-04 December 2017
(Sunday-Monday)

The language of the conference: English

Papers are welcomed in areas of all human matters, “problems”, and their “solutions” in different cultures and societies all over the world. Social responsibility has in our viewpoint a wide interpretation: not only in sense of business (“corporate”), but responsibility in society, economy and politics: culture, ethics, sociology, anthropology, philosophy, economics, psychology, pedagogy, education; as well as environmental protection, law, human resources, healthcare, quality management, marketing, logistics, production, finance, IT, strategy, etc., – both in social and individual levels, global and local meanings. In addition, of course, we accept papers in corporate social responsibility (CSR), specially in themes of environmental efforts, philanthropy, and ethical labour practices.
